1. The ammunition reserve area in the Sar Planina will be the largest in Yugoslavia. It includes several high, mountainous districts between Tetovo and Prizren on the two slopes of Sar Planina and on the southern slopes of Kodza Balkan. It is reported that 27 large stores will be built which will be camouflaged by the rocks.
2. The reserve is subordinate to Fifth Army Headquarters at Skoplje. Engineer troops, under Engineer Major Fajfar, are doing the necessary work.
3. The reserve will have its headquarters (symbol S/P) at Tetovo transferred from Brodec. Work has been directed from Tetovo since the end of 1948.
4. The boundaries of the reserve are:
 - a. On the southern slopes of Sar Planina: Bozovec, Vesala, Brodec, Sipkovic, Selce, Setole, Lesok and Brezno.
 - b. On the northern slopes: Plajnik, Kukovci, Brdasavci, Eljac, Manastirica, Musnikovo and Planjani.
5. Several stores are at an altitude of 1,500 meters, and some even at 2,000 meters. The number of stores is less than that in the Dinaric Alps reserve, which has 37, but the quantity of ammunition is greater.
